The Pintol family has five members: grandparents Suljo and Naza, son Samin, his wife Merisa and their daughter Merjem. They are running a restaurant and rent accommodation. They make different types of homemade products all year round. Main activities in household are agriculture and collecting medicinal herbs. They produce homemade juices, jams, syrups, and other preserves. They also have their own garden where they grow vegetables for their own purposes, and for the restaurant needs. They have chickens, so they always have fresh eggs that they use in the restaurant and sell them. Family prepares traditional Bosnian dishes such as: "pura" – type of corn pudding, made of homemade corn flour, all sorts of pies, fritters, stews, traditional Bey's soup, beans, "sarma" – stuffed cabbage rolls. Meals for vegetarians and vegan can be prepared on request.
